The Beginnings Of Health Work

Public Health Dates Back To The Fables of Aescop States Dr. Huntington Williams In His Radio Health Talk Friday Over Station WGY.

That Public Health is not of recent origin but dates back to the fables of Aescop, was brought out in a talk by Dr. Huntington Williams, District State Health Officer of the State Department of Health in a radio health talk broadcast from the General Electric Station, WGY on Friday evening.

"Aescop, who collected the legends of his time," continued Dr. Williams "is supposed to have been a Greek slave who lived about 550 years before Christ. He indicates that he appreciated the necessity of a pure water supply for one of his characters suggests that it is better to fill the water buckets above the town rather than below it. In one of his best known fables the wolf calls out to the lamb 'How dare you muddle the water from which I am drinking.' This has almost a modern sound. How often today we hear of one community protesting because another locality or group of people are polluting its watershed or water supply.

"Some of the basic rules of personal hygiene were written at least six or seven centuries before Christ, and are to be found in the books of Deuteronomy and Leviticus in the Bible. One of the most important principles here set forth is that persons who have contagious disease must be restricted from common intercourse. In these very early days, the priests were the ones who attended the sick.

Superstition held sway and cures were supposed to be brought about by the driving away of demons by incantations and weird noises. We have a more modern example of this in the medicine man of the Indians. Hippocrates, often called the Father of Medicine, lived in the fifth century before Christ and was able to dispel some of these strange notions and to establish a foundation on which modern medicine may be said to have been built.

"Since priests were the first physicians, it is not surprising to find that the earliest hospitals were temples. However, by 138 A. D. we find a record of a true hospital in the city of Rome. Later the chief hospitals were the monasteries and continued so until the time of the Crusades, 1100 to 1300 A. D. Europe then became public-stricken over the spread of leprosy and many leper hospitals were erected.

"This leads us to the statement that often the real advances in public health have been brought about as the result of great epidemics. People become thoroughly frightened when some dread pestilence sweeps down upon them and are then willing to adopt means to check the death toll which they wouldn't consider under ordinary circumstances. For example, quarantine, or the isolation of sick or exposed persons, first came into existence in Venice because plague was common and cases frequently came into the harbor on ships. To keep the disease from spreading to the land, the ships were held at anchor and a 40-day quarantine period was enforced. In 1485 Venice appointed the first permanent city health official to enforce this and other sanitary regulations—so you see that the position of city health officer is an old and dignified one, dating back at least seven years before Columbus discovered America.

"Some of the present day branches of public health are of comparatively recent origin. The science of vital statistics was born in 1662 when Captain John Graunt published a work called 'Observations on the Bills of Mortality.' In 1700 an Italian named Ramazzini laid the foundations for industrial hygiene in his book 'Concerning the Diseases of Workers.' Army and Navy Hygiene was first developed in the middle of the eighteenth century by three Englishmen, Frigie, Lind and Cook. Shortly thereafter in 1799 preventive medicine was greatly stimulated when Jenner gave to the world vaccination as a means of preventing smallpox, a disease which previously claimed thousands of lives yearly and often included kings in its devastation.

"In New York state colonial health laws were enacted in 1758. New York City had a health officer as early as 1796 and a board of health was organized there in 1801. A state law in 1850 required all cities, towns and villages in New York to have health boards and in 1890 the State Board of Health was founded. Modern bacteriology is, of course, a relatively young science and may be said to have started about 50 years ago with the work of Pasteur and Koch. With it has come the use of antitoxins, and the prevention of such diseases as diphtheria and typhoid fever.

"Thus you will see that while the early history of health work dates back to pre-Bible times it is within the lifetime of many that really effective means have been discovered and put into practice to prevent the ravages of infectious diseases."

His Inquiry
The city council got busy last week after the falling season was about over and ordered boards filed with remote located in the middle of the intersection of Broadway, Grand avenue, Thompson and State streets for motorists to drive around."

Considerable Sam E. Madigan, the retired guardian of the peace and dispenser of justice, "They had signs posted on him, listing the speed of cars at 20 miles an hour. As I tell you, our progressive little city is getting ahead by leaps and bounds."

Celebration of Italian Society

Preference in Meats
In an analysis of meat consumption statistics the Department of Agriculture noted that the British eat nearly seven times as much mutton and lamb as do Americans, and declared the reason was "baffled satisfactory explanation."

Mutton and lamb consumed in the United States last year made up only 2.5 per cent of the total meat consumption, while the percentage in Great Britain was 22. There was 20 times as much beef and 25 times more pork than mutton and lamb eaten in this country last year.

The department estimated that mutton and lamb consumption was at the rate of 2.2 pounds per person; pork, 21.5 pounds; beef, 21.5 pounds, and veal, 2.5 pounds.

Adoption Is Cause of Dispute

Anna Jarvis, founder of Mother's Day, aroused when War Mothers' Officers, Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—Miss Jarvis, nationally known as founder of Mother's Day, will be at a hearing before Magistrate on Monday on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred against her when she is alleged to have used abusive language to delegates at the closing session of the convention of American War Mothers last night.

The controversy occurred as delegates to the convention were being seated in the convention room, which was held in the Strand Hardware store on upper Broadway. Having repeatedly been refused admission to the room, Miss Jarvis is alleged to have quarreled with delegates returning from dinner.

When the War Mothers adopted the resolution on the adoption of Mother's Day, Miss Jarvis contended that the War Mothers had no right to appropriate the name of Mother's Day, as she had appropriated it as the name of Mother's Day.

Catherine Tildes of Mill Conn., and H. H. McClellan, president of the national convention, were charged against Miss Jarvis. She was taken to the station and released on a copy of the national officers elected by the War Mothers' convention were: H. H. McClellan, Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Carrie L. Root, Jersey, N. J.; Mrs. Anna Shanahan, Jersey, N. J.; Mrs. Bennett Little, Wadsworth, N. Y.; Mrs. Florence A. Am. Kansas City, corresponding secretary; Mrs. L. C. Boyd, New York, Ind. treasurer; Mrs. Frank Blackfoot, Idaho, historian; Mrs. W. A. Wilcox, Omaha, Neb.

Highland Quilting Practices. A Highland quilting team is preparing for some fine contests this year and already have had two quilts at Donovan's Hall, which have been rented for practice. The quilting party recently held at the hall was a success, and the team is going for the expenses of the quilt. Although three of the members are leaving for college this fall, it is expected that the team will have a snappy quilt.

Johnson Dines Hardware Men

Strand Hardware Dealer Entertains His Employees at Dinner at The Strand Friday Evening to Hear Address by Arthur F. Sheldon.

J. T. Johnson, the Strand hardware merchant, entertained his staff of employees at a dinner at The Strand Friday evening which was marked at the close by an address by Arthur F. Sheldon, who is in charge of the educational campaign being staged in the city under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

The dinner was served in the private dining room of the hotel and was attended by all of the male employees from the Strand store and the branch store on upper Broadway. The usual fine menu was served by the hotel and at the close of the dinner Mr. Johnson introduced Mr. Sheldon.

Mr. Sheldon gave one of the most interesting addresses heard in some time. He took as his subject, "Service," and spoke interestingly of the game of life that all must play whether they would or not. The signal for the game was 4-36-5-4-1. Those who have heard Mr. Sheldon speak before, know the meaning of the cryptic signal and there are still a number of meetings to be addressed by him if meaning at this time.

At the close of his address and at the request of Mr. Johnson he explained briefly the purpose of the Forum of Fundamentals which will be held shortly in Kingston and which will consist of at least six and probably seven sessions. This Forum will likely be held in the high school auditorium.

CURRENT OFFERINGS AT THE THEATERS

With all its gentility of garb and manners, society bears a cold fury and cruel malice toward those of its own sort who dare to disregard public opinion in "The Coast of Polly," with Gloria Swanson which closes at the Keeney Theater tonight. Miss Swanson tears off the straightjacket of conventionality, when it hinders the call of her heart and with fine scorn uses the whiplash of truth on those mongers of scandal who would paint innocence with pitch. The other features include the very latest Keeney News Topics of the Day, and the comedy, "Savage Love," special musical by Jimmie Connors and boys. Opening Monday at the Keeney Theater, Milton Sills will be seen in the photoplay that won him his stardom, "The Making of O'Malley." The final shows of the vaudeville program at the Kingston Opera House tonight includes the following well known players: Elder and Adams in a musical skit, and the wee mite entertainer Dolly Kramer, De Haven and Harry a comedy offering, DeMure Null and Void, a wow wow offering, and the Vanderbills, in a play entitled "Preparing for the Millionaire's Ball. Eva Novak and William Fairbanks are starring in the photoplay "The Beautiful Sinners," a detective romance which is a series of thrills from start to finish. At the Auditorium tonight the feature picture, "Smooth as Satin" will be screened. It is a story of the face of a madonna, the soul of a virgin—yet she cracked safes for a thrill.

School Board Has Routine Matters

Total School Registration in City at Close of Friday's Session Was 3,933—Two Changes in Teaching Force—Amendment to School Law Favored.

An adjourned meeting of the board of education was held Friday evening at the high school. Superintendent Michael reported that the total registration in the city schools was 3,933 up to Friday evening.

Trustee Beers of the building committee reported that work authorized by the board had been done including the laying of a concrete walk in front of the high school, the relaying of the walk in front of School No. 3 and the installation of electric lights in schools No. 3 and 6. The work of replacing toilets at School No. 6 from the basement to the first and second floors has been started, the contract for the work having let to Fred Dressel, the lowest bidder, for $5,517.37. Considerable of the preliminary work at School No. 6 was done by the school mechanic, Mr. Elmendorf. The report of the committee was adopted.

The finance committee reported the August payroll amounting to $2,767.82 paid, and bills amounting to $8,159.22 were ordered paid.

Need Better Water Supply. Superintendent Michael reported to the board that it was impossible to get adequate water at School No. 2. On the second floor no water was available and the toilets could not be flushed. The condition, he said, was due to clogged water pipes which have become rusted shut from the street main into the building. The building committee was authorized to investigate.

Lectures at High School. Permission was granted the Federation of Women's Clubs for use of the high school auditorium for two lectures, one by Lieut. Harding on November 22 on "Round World Aviation," and the second to be announced at a later time. Permission was also granted Arthur Sheldon for use of the auditorium for six free lectures of an educational character to the city teachers.

Amending Education Law. A communication was also received from the Auburn, N. Y., school board recommending an amendment to the school compulsory education law so that minors of 16 years who have completed grades shall not be compelled to take part time schooling but that they can attend evening school. The Auburn board requested the local board to take action and if satisfactory that the local senator and assemblyman be notified. The local board after discussing the matter suggested a change so that minors of 16 years and over who were employed might attend evening school, not all minors. The suggestion was approved unanimously and the clerk was authorized to notify the legislature of the action taken.

Two New Teachers. The teachers' committee reported that Miss Jennie Hiseley, eighth grade teacher at School No. 6, had tendered her resignation, in July and that the services of Mary S. Danford had been secured at a salary of $1,260. Mrs. Danford is a Normal school graduate with about five years' teaching in the upper grades. She has also taken the summer course at Columbia University. Gladys Tipple, health teacher, and school nurse, had also declined reappointment. Miss Catherine V. Sanford has been secured to fill the vacancy at a salary of $1,260. Miss Sanford is a registered nurse and has had experience in school nursing and health teaching in Catskill.

President Flemming appointed Trustees Betz, Katz and Flemming as visiting committee for the month. City School Registration. Superintendent Michael's report of school registrations in the city was as follows:

School No. 1	36
School No. 2	373
School No. 3	213
School No. 4	232
School No. 5	455
School No. 6	488
School No. 7	421
School No. 8	422
High School	973

Expect to Reach Pole in 45 Hours

Rome, Sept. 12.—From Spitzbergen to the North Pole in 45 hours is the achievement which Captain Roald Amundsen has set for himself, when he makes his next attempt to reach the Pole by airship, according to Colonel Umberto Nobile, constructor of the Italian dirigible N-1, which Amundsen has acquired. "We expect to reach the Pole in 45 hours from Spitzbergen, and then fly on to Alaska without attempting a landing," said Colonel Nobile, who will act as one of the pilots. Lincoln Ellsworth, the American who accompanied Amundsen on his last expedition, a trip to the North Pole, will be a member of the new expedition. Eighteen men will be chosen as the crew.

Chinese Await Deportation

New York, Sept. 12.—While Eddie Gong, leader of the Hip Slog, indicated that his organization was willing and ready to sign a treaty bringing an end to the blood-thirsty warfare with the On Leons, nearly a hundred Chinese from eastern cities waited at the Federal building today for deportation examinations. The round up is the result of the cooperation of four Federal departments, using deportation as the weapon against the blood-thirsty warfare. The suspects held were brought from Buffalo, Baltimore, Washington and other eastern cities where they were arrested in the last two days.

Rushing Work on Catskill Road

Construction on the highway north of Saugerties is being rushed by the contractor. From Cementon south the new grade has been established for a considerable distance and work of laying concrete will shortly be started at the north end. ## Chappies Here For Two Games Sunday Afternoon

First Game Sunday Afternoon at 2:15 O'clock Between Colonials and Chappie Johnson's All Stars. Since taking the Brooklyn Nationals in camp the Colonials are again turning their attention to smaller matters. One of these matters which is close at hand is the double-header with Chappie Johnson's All Stars Sunday afternoon at the Fair Grounds. The up-staters will meet the locals in a double-header which will be called at 2:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Both games will be played in the afternoon for the one admission charge.

Chappie has been a hard nut to crack for the locals this season, but on his last appearance here Chappie was caught napping and the locals turned the tables on the colored players. An attempt will be made to keep the lucky streak going.

The one match today at Glens Falls with Chappie and the two games Sunday ought to practically settle which team will cop the interesting series which these clubs have been engaged in this season. With the Chappie outfit with four games under their belts and the locals with only three, some snappy baseball ought to result within these two days. Although the locals have the under position in this series they have one factor in their favor and that is that they have been able to undermine Carter, Chappies twirling ace.

Carter always held the combination for limning the locals until August 22 when Chappie was at Kingston for two matches when the locals drove Carter from the mound in the third inning and took the game by a score of 22 to 7.

Nevertheless Carter will probably face the locals in one of the coming matches in an effort to get revenge on the locals. But Chappie has several other aces besides Jim who will give the locals no little trouble.

The two games Sunday will probably be the last time the two clubs will meet this season so it is almost certain that nothing short of the best brand of baseball will be witnessed in the two-days' campaign.

Tagging Major League Bases

Travis Jackson of the Giants cracked a single with the bases packed in the eighth and the resulting two runs were enough to beat the Dodgers, 4 to 2.

Shinner's Loner and single scored 3 Cardinal runners and were instrumental in the downfall of the Pirates, 5 to 3.

Fuhr filled the bases and then walked Bluege, forcing Goetz home with the winning run in the ninth, 5 to 4, in a ulp and tuck match between the Senators and Red Sox.

The Braves and Phillies divided a double bill. Genewich was hard hit but ably supported and won the first for the Braves 6 to 4, while Knight plied effectively and scored two with a double to win the second for the Phils, 4 to 2.

Outbit by the Yankees, the Athletics gave Groves faster support than the re-instated Urban Shocker was accorded, and the Yanks lost another 3 to 2.

DAVIS CUP HERE FOR ANOTHER YEAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Germantown Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 12.—With the Davis Cup safely tucked away for another year, interest in today's matches centered chiefly on the comparative ability of big Bill Tilden and little Bill Johnston against that stormy petrel of the courts, Jean Borotra. Tilden was so close to defeat—a single point—in his match with the Frenchman, that Johnston was expected to have considerable trouble this afternoon. The decisive victory of Richards and Williams in the doubles yesterday gave the Americans the trophy.

Tilden will have Rene Le Coste, the Wimbledon winner, as his opponent in the opening match and as the latter has not shown his European form since arriving in the United States, big Bill should have little trouble.

Mrs. Faile recognized her husband talking to another woman after she had been first attracted by his voice. She followed the pair from the store to the Pennsylvania station where she had him arrested.

She told the judge that her husband had been planning to marry the woman and she wanted him to contribute to the support of her eleven-year-old son.

She stated she had married Harold Faile and the couple began housekeeping in Rhinecliff. When the war broke out he disappeared and she gave him up as dead and thought he had been killed in France.

It is stated that Mrs. Anna Cavanaugh Faile has a brother, James Cavanaugh, located in this city where he conducted a garage repair shop some time ago.

The crusher was loaded on the cars on Friday morning today Col. Timberlake called up the Universal Company, stating that the machine had arrived and congratulated them on their efficiency in shipping their orders when promised.

This makes the second crushing plant sold to the West Point authorities this year, besides several screens and other products.

Making Survey of Peach Industry

New York Department of Farms and Markets to Participate in Nation Wide Survey.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, Sept. 12, (Special).—In order to provide information on which may be based more orderly planting, production and marketing of peaches, the United States Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with various state and local agencies, is now beginning a survey of the commercial peach orchards in every state which grows this crop commercially.

This will include a count of the number of trees of different ages and varieties in every orchard having one hundred or more trees. It will be supplemented by detailed studies of supplies of peaches from competing sections in identical markets at the same time, which will show the effect of good or poor distribution on price. Field studies bearing on the economics of production and marketing from the farm end will also be made in selected areas.

The work is being planned so that when completed it will give a clear picture of the present status of the entire industry which will enable individual growers to look ahead profitably in planning their own planting, growing and marketing operations. The fact that this survey is to be nationwide will give every grower the advantage of information regarding conditions in competing states.

In New York state the first step in this work will be the mailing of schedules to each commercial grower asking the number of trees of each age and variety in his orchard together with production figures for this year and last. Since Elberta is the principal variety in this state and there are not likely to be more than two or three other varieties in any orchard, filling this out will be very simple. The mailing of the schedules from Albany will begin the latter part of September. These are to be returned to the Agricultural Statistician in the Department of Farms and Markets. Prompt reports from all growers will save much time and expense for follow-up work and will be greatly appreciated.

The other parts of the work in this state will be done largely by representatives of the New York State College of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Paul Berlenbach Retains Light Heavy Title After Severe Test—Buffalo Boy Almost Takes Crown in Opening Rounds.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Sept. 12.—The light heavyweight crown remained on the brow of Paul Berlenbach today, albeit somewhat rakishly. But the First Ward of Buffalo need take no shame in its challenger, for before Jimmy Slattery was hammered down to defeat at the Yankee Stadium last night he furnished the ring-rabbit with a fight they relished.

Dancing, jabbing and riding through with his right, he all but jarred Berlenbach loose from his crown before the relentless, hard hitting plodder finally caught up with him.

In the tenth his own speed and the occasional punishing blows landed by Berlenbach began to tell. He could no longer keep the champion at a distance.

Those hammering punches sent Slattery down six times in the final two rounds. The bell saved him in the tenth and Referee Patsy Haley stopped the carnage after a minute and 28 seconds of the eleventh round had elapsed. The lithe, dancing figure of a few minutes before was helpless, sodden with punches.

Even then, the roar of approval that echoed down from the dark cavern of the stadium to the bright spot of the ring was for the plucky loser, not for the victorious champion.

In six of the first nine rounds, Slattery made a show of the Astoria slinger, skipping lightly around the slow-moving Berlenbach and lashing in an attack that had the champion puzzled. Slattery was winning, by the skip-skip system.

In the fifth and sixth, he had Berlenbach in such straits that the necessary to clear Paul's head. Hats were tossed in the air as the ring-rabbit visioned the crowning of a new champion.

But no thought of defeat entered the mind of Berlenbach as these last straw summer sailed around the ring. Wobbling as he was, he plodded on, convinced that when he caught up with Slattery he would hammer him down.

And that's just what he did.

MISS EDLER RETURNING TO SEE HOME FOLKS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Paris, Sept. 12.—Miss Gertrude Edler, American girl swimmer, left for Cherbourg today where she will embark on the Mauritania for New York, entirely uncertain whether she will return to France next year to make another attempt at swimming the English Channel.

"I don't know whether I will come back for another attempt next year or not," Miss Edler said. "All I know now is that I want to see home folks."

"Even though I didn't swim the channel I gained 14 pounds and that's something. Perhaps I'll have better luck next time."

MORSEY MAY MANAGE THE CHICAGO CUBS.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 12.—Roger Hornsby may manage the Chicago Cubs next season.

William Wright, Jr., owner of the Cubs, who left here today for Chicago, was reported to be considering making Hornsby such a tempting offer to manage his team that he could not refuse.

Before leaving for the east Wright agreed to pay a sum said to be close to $50,000, with two players thrown in, for Frank Ledy O'Doul, of the Salt Lake Club of the Pacific Coast League. O'Doul is leading the Coast League batters.
